

EDITORIAL

I had planned to make this the 100th consecutive issue of the GLOBE CIRCLER an elaborate edition with extra pages and extra features to celebrate the occasion. Since the time these plans were made this country has been plunged into WAR. A deliberate attack on this country and every thing it stands for has been made. Every thing else must now be subordinated to a single and unified effort by every man, woman and child in these United States of America to win this conflict and to destroy once and for all, utterly and completely, this many headed monster which seeks to rule the universe, to make slaves of mankind, to deprive free peoples of the rights of life, liberty and pursuit of happiness.

Each person can help in some small way. The entire facilities of the I.D.A. are being reorganized on a wartime basis. Listening not for pleasure only but in the interests of vital necessity will be continually emphasized during the emergency period. Experienced shortwave monitors (listeners) are needed in the interests of defense. Many agencies need accurate and up-to-the minute shortwave statistics these days. You can help in making shortwave information of this nature available to press, radio, government and other authorized defense sources that may need it. I will undertake to handle this data, classify it, compile it. You can help by donating a little time each day to a careful & systematic search of the shortwave channels for the following types of information: New stations, changes in frequency or schedule, Times for newcasts in English & other languages, times for peak reception for the weaker stations or those of most timely war interest; types of identifying signals used; other detailed information about schedules, location, power, address etc. Keep a pencil & pad before you and jot down anything you may come across and then shoot it immediately into the headquarters of the I.D.A. Some small seemingly insignificant fact may prove of vital importance to a defense agency that may need it. We are supposedly shortwave monitoring experts. Now is the time to put this skill and knowledge to a useful benefit for those who need it. I am depending upon you.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

With this the 113th consecutive issue of the GLOBE CIRCLER (started on Jan 1, 1933), I regretfully announce the suspension of publication - as an economy measure - until after the war - at which time I hope - with your cooperation to put out an enlarged and improved magazine.

The International Dx'ers Alliance is not being dissolved and I hope to keep in touch with you from time to time if at all possible. The matter of discontinuance of publication for the present has been brought about - not by lack of interest or cooperation but by lack of sufficient revenue to continue. With overseas enrollments out of the question --- a vast number of our members in the armed forces, and many others doing full time work which leaves no leisure for dx'ing revenue understandably has been on the decline. This is not your fault nor is it mine. I have carried on as long as possible meeting any deficits out of my own pocket. I am no longer able to do this.

A careful record is being kept of all unexpired subscriptions and when publication is resumed each member will receive all issues remaining to his or her credit.

The Monitoring Network will continue to function and other IDA organizational activities will continue wherever and whenever possible.

With grateful thanks to all who have given untiringly and unselfishly in the interests of the IDA.

TEN YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE LISTENERS

Ten years ago the IDA was born. Organized primarily to stimulate the hobby of broadcast band dx'ing, its scope was soon enlarged to also include the then comparatively new sport of short-wave dx'ing. A little later the scope of the IDA was again expanded to embrace the field of amateur dx reception and an additional publication, AMATEURING, was introduced. The IDA by this time was flourishing beyond our wildest dreams. Before the outbreak of World War II our organization actually included members in over 60 countries. With the war came a ban on amateur activities in all warring countries. This spelled the doom of amateur dx reception for the duration but other listening activities continued on an unabated basis.-- Came Pearl Harbor and the entry of the U.S. into the war, and IDA entered a new phase. Listening for pleasure only was out; listening in the interests of defense became our policy. Many of our members are already in the armed services. We are proud of them. Those of us at home are also trying to be useful by "listening" for information that may be of importance in the war effort. That our modest efforts are appreciated is borne out by the ever widening circle of government bureaus that are using the GLOBE CIRCLER as a primary source of shortwave information. In addition our publication is used constantly by radio networks, press services, monitoring stations, by the Canadian Broadcasting Corp.; the Australian Broadcasting Corp. and many other similar sources. Our Regional Monitoring Network is doing yeoman service in supplying important information that is in turn passed on to the proper sources. We wish to continue to do our share, that is to supply the most complete and accurate shortwave statistics possible. To do this we need the help of every member. Make it a habit to listen in just as often as possible; to take notes on what you hear; to send these notes to us. We will do the rest.

To continue this service; to continue our publication takes funds. Our one and only source of revenue is the small yearly subscription fee for the GLOBE CIRCLER. With many members in the armed services this revenue is greatly reduced. We ask your cooperation in three ways. 1) by paying your renewal promptly (whether you are dx'ing now or not); 2) by recommending our publication to anyone interested in shortwave reception; 3) by making a small contribution when, and if, possible--
Charles A. Morrison.

EDITORIAL

About a month ago I spent a few days in Washington & N.Y.C. I visited several governmental and radio offices with which we have had more or less intimate contact. In each place officials were more than generous in their praise of the GLOBE CIRCLER and our continued efforts to furnish pertinent short-wave information. They agreed unanimously as to the value of the GLOBE CIRCLER, and our information in general. I am happy to pass this well deserved praise along to you members who are responsible for furnishing this information. Those who need short-wave station data are depending upon us. It is our job to continue to furnish as much; as up-to-date; as accurate information as possible. Each, and every, item helps. Towards this end I solicit your continued cooperation in monitoring regularly and then passing the information along to us.

I hate to be continually mentioning the matter of finances but its importance in relation to our continued existence can not be ignored. I therefore am asking you to help in these three ways: 1) Paying your renewal promptly (whether you are dx'ing at present or not); 2) By recommending our publication to anyone interested in shortwave. In this connection what more appreciated could you give a radio interested friend for a Christmas gift than a subscription to our GLOBE CIRCLER ($1.50); 3) By making a small contribution when, and if, you can. --Charles A. Morrison.

EDITORIAL

Many members will be disappointed with the size of this edition of our magazine. We have been forced to leave out not only our very important station list, but also several pages of other material. Many will wonder why this happened.

The United States of America is now engaged in a war. Just what effect this war will have on a publication of the character of this one is something only time can tell. At one time this organization had as many members living overseas as we had in the U. S. A. Today those memberships are gone. Today America calls for the conservation of materials that go into making radio receivers and transmitters, these to be used in making war materials. Today America asks us to conserve paper. The whole thing adds up to the fact that we must move carefully for the time-being. Later on the magazine may be increased in size.

One thing else is true. Either the National Defense program is keeping short wave fans away from their radios or else the mild summer-like weather we have been having over most of North America is holding this radio season back. No matter which, we know that members can be of assistance to us in bringing the magazine back to normal size by mentioning the club to other fans, by patronizing our advertisers and mentioning the club to them, and by mentioning the club to short wave stations when sending reports.

SHORT NOTES ABOUT SHORT WAVES

George Williams, that world-famous radio commentator of station HP5G, Panama City, will broadcast a special program for members of this International Short Wave Club between 10:00 P.M. and midnight of Sunday, January 4th. This program will be of special interest and will be verified promptly by Mr. Williams. HP5G is on 11.78 mc. and the address is P. O. Box 34, Panama City. Mr. Williams is a former British Naval officer and it was he who tapped out that now famous message announcing the surrender of the German fleet in 1918. He is a globe-trotter and has many interesting things to tell you members.

Thomas M. Moss of 570 Oak Drive, Hapesville, Georgia, is now a licensed amateur with the call W4HYW. He will use all bands excepting 20 and 75 and will verify all reports hearing a stamp.—George Thomp-

EDITORIAL

As the war spreads more and more over this world of ours, it becomes more and more difficult for us to keep abreast of the news on short wave radio stations. With mail either ended or greatly delayed, messages from the stations are received far too late to be of help. Our overseas members, too, have a hard time getting information to us. This puts more and more work on the shoulders of our American reporters.

For a time we considered appointing regular listeners to certain stations, such as one or two listeners to keep us informed on Russian stations, one or two to listen and report on German stations, etc. But, we realized that no one or two persons can hear all of these stations and that it requires the combined efforts of many listeners to keep us up-to-date on these and all other stations.

The International Short Wave Club is fortunate in having some of the world's best short wave listeners in our club. We are lucky, indeed, to have many famous DXers writing to us each month. Their help is considerable. Never-the-less, we need reports now from every direction, not only on new stations coming on the air, but of others who may move to a new spot on the dial, be heard on a schedule different from what we publish and such things. So, if anyone reading this page happens to hear something not listed in our list, just send us a card or letter. By co-operating with us, you are helping yourself.

SHORT NOTES ABOUT SHORT WAVES

Leon A. Hutchinson, 8 Willow Street, Milford, New Hampshire, is in a hospital and badly in need of some cheering up. He is a pretty sick man. We suggest that every thoughtful member drop him a card or letter today. He has been a fine reporter and a good friend of the club and you can show your appreciation by writing him now.—Last month we got pages 6 and 8 mixed up, the first time this has ever happened in our twelve years. To read that issue correctly, read page 5, then page 8, page 7, page 6 and then on to 9. In other words, turn to page 6 for page 8.—Nicola Cannata of Chicago, Illinois, got us a new member.—A. Wendell Field of San Diego, California, is trying to get us members.—Readers who happen to get this publication through the kindness of a radio manufacturer may send us reports just like an ordinary member of the club. When their free editions are concluded by that manufacturer, they can

With almost all commercial radio makers working from ninety percent to full capacity on government orders they are just not willing to advertise. So, it is necessary for us to cut down the number of pages in this particular issue. Possibly we may be able to bring it back to normal size next month. By patronizing our advertisers and by mentioning the club to them and to prospective members, you can help us make every issue a full-size one. Naturally, with the number of pages cut, we either have to cut down the amount of news or cut part of the station list off. This month we are going easy on the news and giving you the list.

EDITORIAL

As the war spreads over more and more territory, we are reminded of many friends who live in these places. In the Philippines we had at least one hundred members during our period of existence. In Burma, the chief of the Educational Department succeeded in getting over two hundred members for us. In Singapore, Java, Medan, Hong Kong and even in Japan we had many members. It is little wonder then that we have periods of despondency when we think of the suffering and pain subjected on these people.

It is also remindful to us that we are not able to continue our work as we have in the past. When our own great nation, The United States of America, entered the war, it meant that radio factories had to jump to the aid of our fighting forces and turn out army and navy material. It also meant that many of our members had to give up their listening posts to take up arms for our country. As a result, we find that we are not able to carry on our work on the basis as when the world was at peace, or even as before the United States entered the war.

Therefore, friends, it becomes necessary for me to say that hereafter this paper will be published only irregularly. It may mean months before you receive a copy, or they may arrive regularly each month. We entertain high hopes that we can keep you informed on the latest doings. And, after our beloved country releases radio factories to making civilian radios again, we will take up where we left off. With the coming of summer, it is not likely many of you will miss your copies. And with the coming of a new radio season next fall, we hope to give you a magazine again.

Now, we remind you of two things. First, continue to send us your news. It may be possible to carry on successfully in spite of all of our troubles, right through the summer. Second, your subscriptions will be based on the number of copies you receive and not by any particular date. If you have a half-dozen copies due you, your subscription will be extended until you get all six copies.

Hereafter International Short Wave Radio will be published irregularly.
