STATION CALL: WRUL

JAN. TO JUNE 1966

WORLDWIDE COMMUNICATION CENTER • 4 WEST 58th STREET • NEW YORK 19, N. Y., U. S. A.

PRINTED MATTER

Three broadcast organizations pooled facilities to present coverage of the Federal German election returns to 70 North American radio stations.

Simultaneously, Spanish, English and Portuguese translations of Pope Paul's visit to the U.N. were channelled by RNYW to local stations.

PAPAL VISIT

The unprecedented one-day visit of Pope Paul VI to the United Nations and New York City reached an audience of millions as the result of the combined RNYW/WRUL live coverage in English, Spanish and Portuguese.

Although WRUL's transmitters beamed 12 hours of almost continuous coverage, an even larger number of medium wave listeners heard the RNYW broadcast through local stations. This "local" network was serviced, in addition to the WRUL transmitters, by a combination of specially leased circuits and direct re-broadcast from short wave.

These combined facilities carried the special broadcast to 25 capital cities throughout the Western Hemisphere where, in turn, individual country networks relayed the broadcast to hundreds of additional cities.

In the words of Ralf Brent, President of RNYW, "Our international broadcast service has moved into high gear to coordinate this project with the Esso companies and the McCann-Erickson International agency. We believe this is a major break-through in international communications and will establish a pattern whereby future major news and special events of the world can be brought to the local radio listener under institutional sponsorship of world corporations."

The Esso Companies of Latin America and the Caribbean underwrote the costs of dissemination as a public service, and in keeping with the spirit of the event, deleted all commercial references.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon), owners of RNYW/WRUL, relinquished their broadcast time, on Monday, October 4 so that maximum time would be available for the population of the world to hear the Pope's dramatic and non-denominational appeal for world peace.

GERMAN ELECTIONS

On September 19, Radio New York Worldwide joined with the National Educational Radio Network of the United States in a number of broadcasting "firsts."

RNYW Overseas Listeners Participate By Telephone

One of the more unique but unheralded events of the last decade has been the development of worldwide telephone service, including the needed international agreements to permit telephone users to call other countries and to reverse the charges at the same time.

Concurrent with this has been the growth in American domestic radio of the so-called telephone conversation program, which permits listeners to call their favorite radio personalities and talk with them on the air.

These two developments are now linked through a unique broadcast being co-produced by Radio New York Worldwide and New York area station WNBC, which is the key station of the National Broadcasting Company network.

Every Saturday between 1810 and 2000 GMT, Brad Crandall, popular WNBC conversationalist, accepts "collect" calls from RNYW listeners in various parts of the world. The conversations with these listeners are carried on a live basis overseas by WRUL and within the New York

Papal, Visit German Elections

It was the first time a continuous coverage of a foreign election was produced in the English language. It was also the first time the educational radio stations in the United States, stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific, were joined for a live broadcast.

The actual election coverage, produced by RNYW in association with "The Voice of Germany" marked the first time two of the world's leading short wave broadcasters pooled facilities for an event which proved exciting—not only for United States listeners but for WRUL overseas audiences in Europe, Africa and Latin America.

The broadcast was anchored by Mitchell Krauss, RNYW Vice President; Jerrold Sandler, Executive Director of NER; with German anchor man Walter Gong, the head of Voice of Germany's North American service.

The entire project was broadcast over 70 local stations in the United States and Canada as well as by WRUL.

Writing in the Saturday Review, Robert Lewis Shayon praised the coverage as a "highly professional, fast-moving, attractive listening experience. German politics, for most of us, are remote, but the more you listened to this coverage, the more you learned and the deeper your involvement became."

area by WNBC, simultaneously.

Because of the initial success of this "Experiment in International Conversation," it is hoped that further "people to people" type radio ventures may be developed. Suggestions are always welcomed from the audience. Listen carefully during this special program for the telephone number through which calls can be placed to the United States without any cost whatsoever.

Don't be shy during the first weeks of this experiment. Listeners in Australia, Western Europe, British Isles, Canada and the Caribbean talked about sports, medical care, the Vietnam war and other subjects with Brad Crandall.

The Business Side of Radio New York Worldwide

One of the most interesting facets of WRUL-Radio New York Worldwide is that it is the only daily commercial short wave broadcasting station located in the United States. This unique situation enables WRUL to foster international understanding free of government supervision and, at the same time, places heavy responsibility on the staff to maintain and expand its high standard of broadcast entertainment and educational programming.

The station presents a wide variety of programming—entertainment, news, information, culture—one of few such commercial stations in the entire world to do so. It beams in English and Spanish to 108 countries, 19 hours a day, and plans an expanding schedule of programs in other languages, such as French, German and Portuguese.

As part of its commercial activity, Radio New York Worldwide has developed a method of worldwide advertising that is revolutionizing international programming and providing sponsors with guaranteed coverage of the world areas in which they have an interest. For example, Radio New York Worldwide produces and records programs in New York, sends the tapes to representatives in countries overseas for the addition of local personal touches, and schedules the programs on local stations in the country where the representative is located.

Latin American listeners are familiar with "El Surco del Aire John Deere" which is not only internationally broadcast over WRUL but also locally in Central American countries, informing farmers of new John Deere products and agricultural methods. And last season, Champion Spark Plugs brought listeners auto racing programs networked throughout Latin America and Spain in addition to the exciting program heard via short wave.

More than 175 radio stations in the countries of the Western Hemisphere were inter-connected to take two special broadcasts totaling 2 1/2 hours on Monday, October 4th, covering Pope Paul's visit to the United Nations and to New York City. The unusual network was sponsored by the Esso companies of Central and South America and the islands of the Caribbean. Separate language services included English, Spanish and Portuguese.

Radio New York Worldwide sends listeners such English programs as Worldwide Investors Digest, a listing of 250 closing prices on the New York and American stock exchanges, sponsored by Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, and the cultural programs on Switzerland sponsored by the Swiss National Tourist Office.

Recent advertising clients include Marx Toys, religious programs of several groups, Philco International, Hallicrafter, Heath-Kit, New York Times International, Reader's Digest, Scala and Vision Magazines—among others.

Although emerging as a powerful international advertising medium, Radio New York Worldwide is aware of its obligations. Ralf Brent, Radio New York's president, states, "Our commercial objectives will always be based on our desire to foster better international understanding through our variety of quality programming free of propaganda."

RNYW PLANNING NEW WORLDWIDE TELAUDIO CENTER

By about April 1, 1966, RNYW will be moved to the most modern and largest radio-only facility in New York City. From the entire third floor of 485 Madison Avenue, former CBS headquarters, fourteen operating production units will increase our capacity to serve listeners and advertisers the world over. Complete details with a photographic display will be featured in the next issue of RYNW Program Guide.

RNYW NEWS

The 20th Century requires of man a need to know. At no other time in history could an event thousands of miles away bear directly on the individual, instantly. Every half hour, RNYW listeners can keep in touch with those events. As the pictures above show, RNYW News uses the most modern radio broadcasting news gathering techniques and equipment.

AUDIO DIRECT

As the international affiliate of the ABC Radio Network, RNYW broadcasts many reports from around the world.

Another network of special correspondents report directly to RNYW News via shortwave, direct line, telephone, tape and cable. Unique with RNYW News is a system that permits the editor on duty to dial in meetings of the United Nations or the Organization of American States. These audio services are literally at the editor's fingertips and earphones.

PRINTED DIRECT

RNYW News subscribes to eight major news wires... the services of the United Nations, Reuters North America, United Press International, plus IT & T and RCA Telex. These latter teleprinter cable machines allow RNYW correspondents in the field to "talk" with the RNYW Newsroom.

EDITING

The big job is cross-checking, editing, sifting, and re-writing. While speed remains a top factor, RNYW News reports the reaction of UN diplomats, listens for an inkling of the opinions of world leaders, and watches the editorial comment in the world press. All is a part of the search for the hidden meaning the event may hold for the listener. This is the process behind "RNYW News By Continent", presented "live" by RNYW 21 times each week. Sometimes the news cannot wait...

"WE INTERRUPT THIS PROGRAM..."

When the urgency warrants, these often chilling words can be delivered by the news editor through the "Hot Line", a microphone and switching device at his command. His "mike" is at the teleprinter, reading the details as they are printed in the newsroom.

FOLLOW-UP

Even in the case of a less urgent bulletin, RNYW News follows the story from the first break-in through to reactions and conclusions. Then, during the news interviews, Report from New York, Issues and Answers, Book World, and other radio news documentaries, RNYW explores the experts' opinions in conversation with specialists of all professions.

While being a cultural, educational, and entertainment medium, RNYW also is the leading non-governmental news source on the world's shortwave bands.

DXING WORLDWIDE

Dxing summer contest booming success

DX'ers Irwin Belofsky and Steve Silverstein.

Established as a forum for DX clubs and hobbyists around the world, DXing Worldwide, RNYW's weekly half-hour program for SWLs and DX'ers, now enjoys the full and active support of innumerable DX organizations in both North and South America and, of course, Europe.

To further engage the on-the-air participation of DXers and SWLs, a new project of establishing a DX Reporting Network has been given current priority. In its initial step, Roy Patrick in Derby, England, is contacting SWLs across Europe. Meanwhile, DXing Worldwide Producer Irwin Belofsky invites all listeners in Africa, Latin America, the Caribbean and the Far and Middle East to enlist their resources in this joint effort in support of a growing service to a vital hobby.

DXING A GROWING INTEREST

Just as television brought a new challenge to radio, the space age has developed new areas of special interest: DXing the satellites, manned space mission communications, and the phenomenal growth of the number of short and medium wave broadcasters since World War II.

During 1965, DXing Worldwide's two contests reflected this growth. In August, the Summer Contest received twice as many entries as the January broadcast. The entries came from 42 countries, from the U.S.A. to India, Israel, Australia, Nigeria, and virtually every country of Western Europe. Returns were also posted from Eastern Europe—a welcome new group participating in this worldwide hobby. Part of the credit must go to the manufacturers, publishers and DX clubs whose contributions of receivers, publications and memberships were won by 40 entrants.

Letters to the Editor

The RNYW Listeners' Service has received a wide variety of requests, pats on the back, and critiques.

A sampling of recently received letters is printed below. RNYW welcomes your thoughts.

REQUEST ANSWERED

Re your offer of a Hurricane Chart I wonder if it would be possible to receive one from you. We are at present trading from Eastern America to Western America and the West Indies. Having just missed 'Betsy' fortunately, I am rather interested and would like very much to improve my knowledge of hurricanes, as we'll be on these runs for another two months before we go back home to England.

AND UNANSWERED

Heard about your water shortage. That has withered all the shrubs and foliage.

Have lots of snow that will melt down. In exchange for GIRLS who do not frown.

Sorry, girls contacted did, or resembled shrubs and foliage. Ed.

THE SPACE AGE

This vessel operates down the Atlantic missile test range, stretching from Trinidad to Capetown, and WRUL is one of our best sources of information and entertainment.

I enjoyed your Gemini V live program every day between 1600 and 1700 GMT and am surprised about the good quality of your broadcast. When I think of the enormous distance between Kiel and New York, I am full of joy about the wonderful receiving of your program.

COLLECT CALLS

I would like to thank you for the chance you gave me to go 'on the air' tonight in the Sports Program (with Bill Maser). I enjoyed talking about Scotland, and the Scottish spot of Shinty.

Donald M. MacLeod

On Saturday, 14th of August last, I was fortunate enough to be able to take part via the telephone in a broadcast from your station when I talked to sportscaster Bill Maser, after being invited to do so by various announcers on evenings previous to 14th August.

I booked the call from Stafford, England, little thinking I would be fortunate enough to be connected. Bill and I had a very interesting talk and he's obviously well versed in boxing, the sport about which we talked.

PLAUDITS

Thank you for your wonderful, interesting programming. I have just returned from a holiday in Scotland. I took a portable transitor with me, short wave of course, and I picked you up very crisp and clear. Your news coverage intrigued my Scottish friends to the point where they now tune you in regularly, and they promised me before I left that they would write to you for their programme guide. ... What with your news, music, sports and stock market reports, who needs a newspaper?

I am a regular listener of WRUL, particularly the morning 'News Around the World' program. Even though I live in downtown San Salvador, a city located in a valley, and my residence is surrounded by taller buildings, I still manage to get good reception most of the time. ... I would like to thank you for the good programming of news and music on WRUL. It keeps me informed and at the same time gives me a taste of home.

French boy, thirty years old, I am learning English by myself and with the help of American Peace Corps in Niamey. So, I am very interested in your programs.

FROM ALL FAITHS

I listened to your program (Lutheran Hour) here in Santo Domingo and I really enjoyed it very much. My father is a minister and since I left home and joined the Army, I have really missed his church services. Your program last night made me think more seriously about the situation the world is in today.

I listened to Mormon Conference on Saturday and Sunday, October 2nd and 3rd at 1700 GMT. ... I was deeply moved.

A. Velge
Tilburg, Netherlands

I was very thankful for the opportunity to hear Mormon Conference. As a missionary it means an awful lot to a person to be able to hear the words of our leaders in this far off land.

Elder M. Brent Chambers

As a Catholic it is my sincere and urgent wish, to thank you—from all of my heart—for that real excellent coverage of the visit of His Holiness, Pope Paul VI, in your city.

From the beginning at 1200 until midnight German Time I was listening and (after nearly 30 years of SW-listening now!) I must say, that was one of the quite great days in Broadcasting-History! The example of broadcasting journalism, which your station has given at this historic day, was grand.
